February, 2025

WELCOME

Welcome to our February edition of the Irish Aviation Students Association newsletter, where we're excited to announce the launch of our brand new website, designed to be your ultimate hub for all things aviation! We're also delighted to tell you about our partnership with ASG, offering you the chance to win a fully funded PPL & ATPL theoretical scholarship. As always, we hope our newsletter both informs and inspires you as you chart your own path in the ever-evolving world of aviation.

ASG Scholarship

We're thrilled to share that IASA has joined forces with ASG to offer one lucky aviation enthusiast a fully funded PPL & ATPL theoretical scholarship!

The PPL (Private Pilot Licence) theory course consists of 121 hours of both remote and classroom learning—an ideal way to launch your flying journey. Valued at €850, this program grants you full access to ASG's comprehensive learning centre.

Meanwhile, the ATPL (Airline Transport Pilots Licence) theory course is approved by the European Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) and regulated by the IAA. With a state-of-the-art training facility conveniently located near Dublin Airport, students benefit from hundreds of high-quality video tutorials and top-tier instruction—an opportunity worth over €2,700!

IASA is proud to offer this exceptional prize in partnership with ASG, a longstanding supporter of the Irish Aviation Students Association.

EVENT RECAP: JAN

A huge thank you to everyone who joined us for our first event of the year—JAN Dublin! It was a fantastic evening featuring KPMG and Ryanair, who shared invaluable insights into industry life and graduate opportunities. We were also honored to welcome the Junior Flight Ops Team, Lt Paddy, and Junior Officer Lucky, who helped highlight the importance of vital social causes. To top off the night, attendees enjoyed a special giveaway for an introductory flight and simulator vouchers at AFTA! Keep an eye out for more celebrations and milestones as we mark 10 years of the Irish Aviation Student Association this year! We can't wait to see you at our next event!
